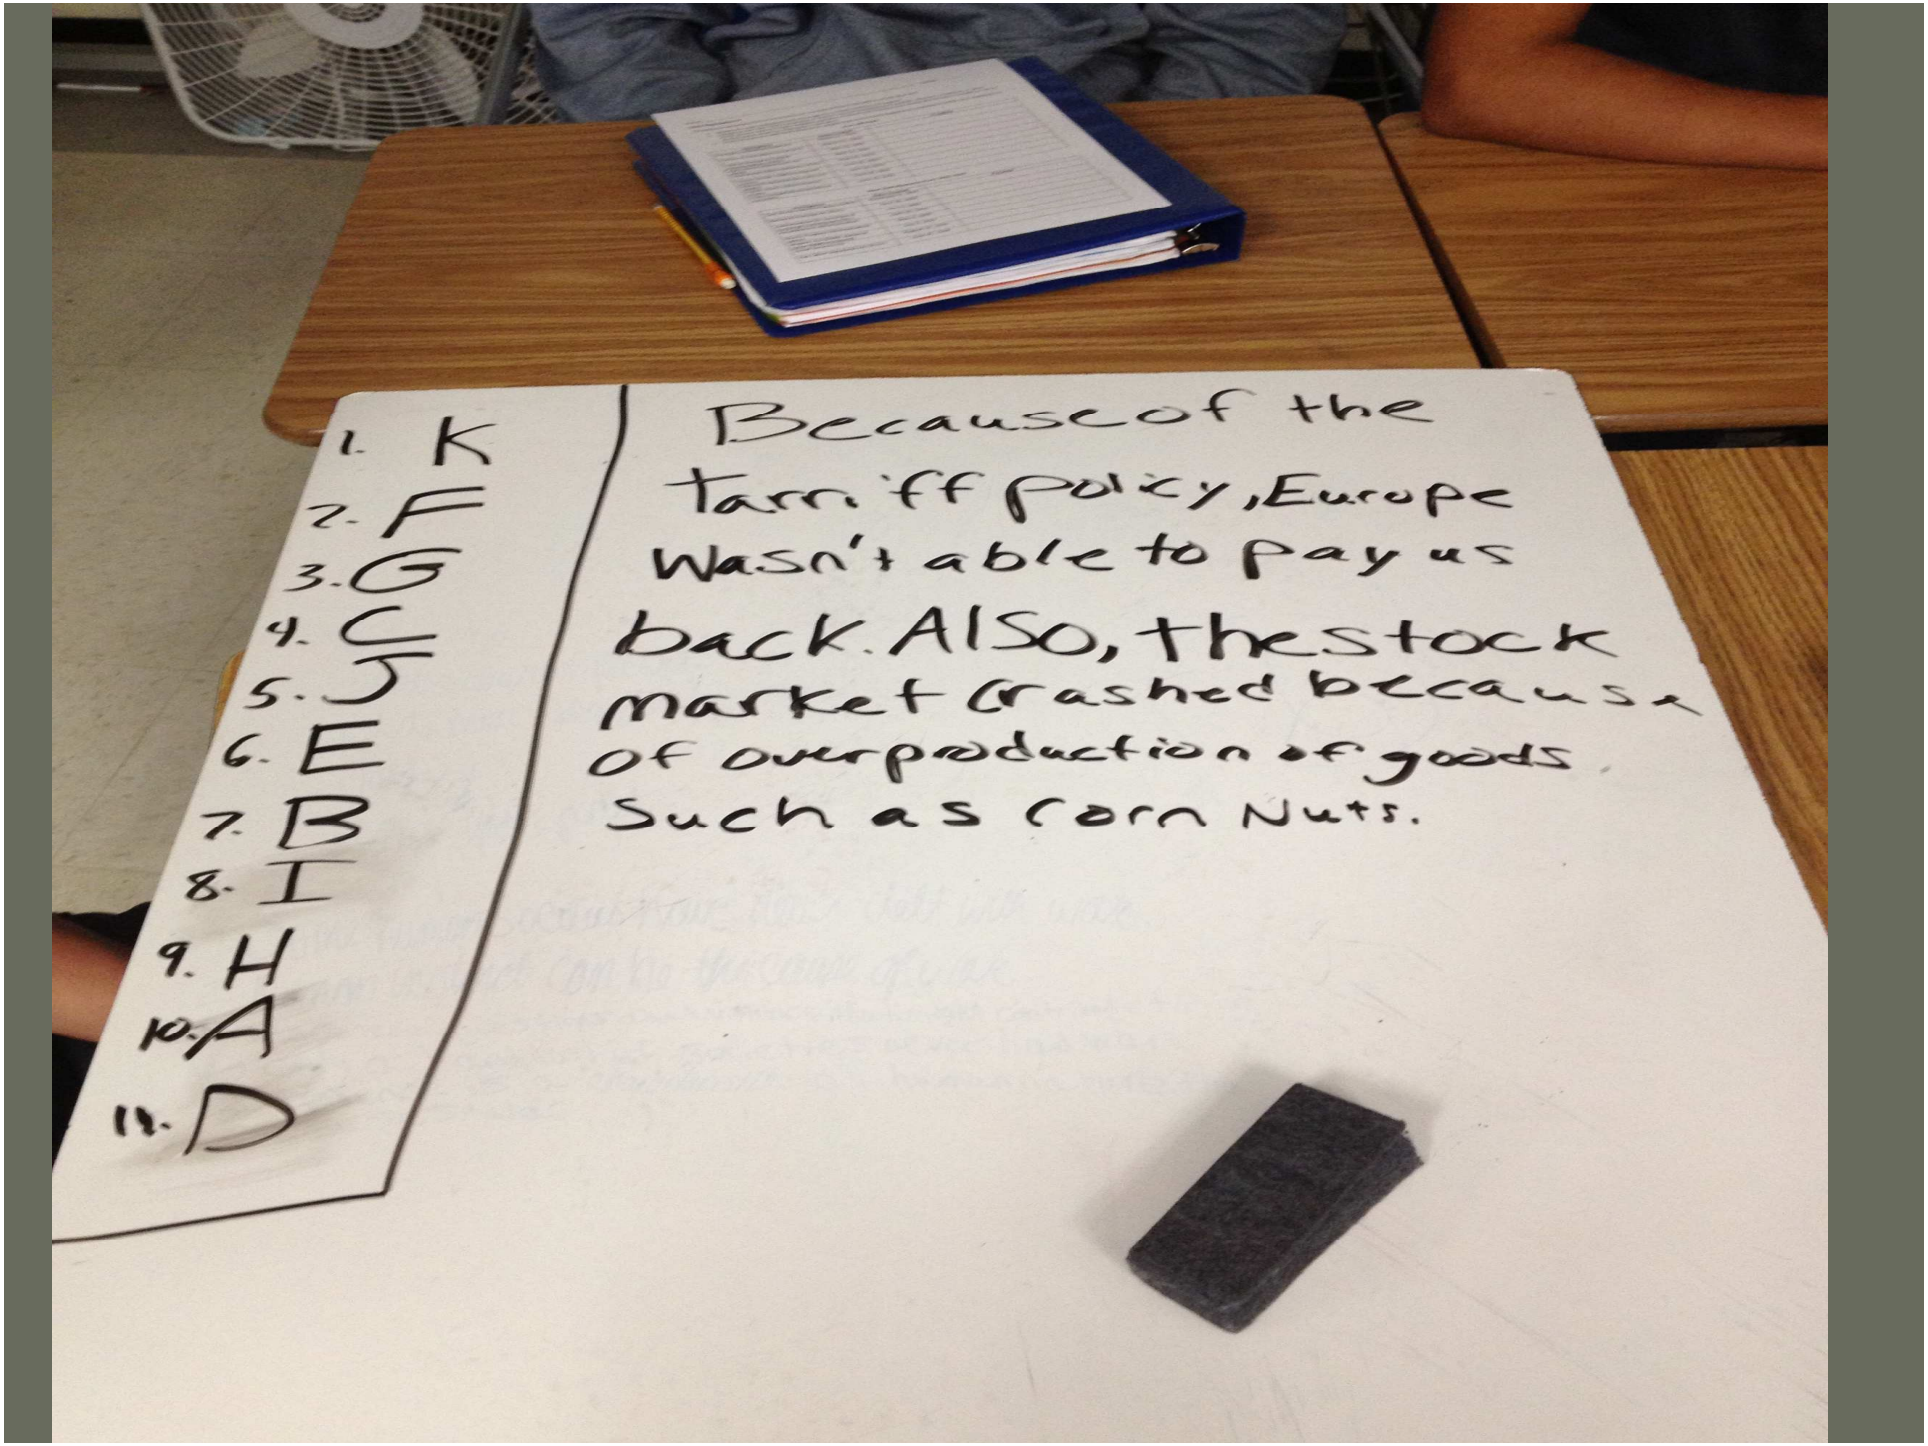
Great Depression Causes & Relate Them Thesis Activity- Student Responses



1. K
2. F
3. G
4. C
5. J
6. E
7. B
8. I
9. H
10. A
11. D
Because of the tariff policy, Europe wasn't able to pay us back. Also, the stock market crashed because of overproduction of goods such as corn Nuts.

Although the Roaring 20s were a time of prosperity for the U.S., overproduction, due to the efficiency of mass production, overexpansion of credit, because of the popularity of "buy now pay later", and the impact of Europe on the world economy b/c of their attempts to repay the U.S. or war costs led to the downfall of America's economy.

BJ EI
D
The most imp.
causes of the great Depression were tie into American economic practices such as the monopolistic pricing, tarriffs which stemmed globa
flow of money, stock
speculation & its cras
as well as the impac
of a resurging Euro economy.

(11) D.

Thesis:

- In the 1920's, the Great Depression occured due to the overexpansion of credit and unregulated banking practices which lead to the crash of the stock market.

During this Great Depression
The over-speculation, overexpansion of credit, poor choices by Hoover, and impact of the dead foreign economies contributed to the dying economy in America.

The Great Depression was unfortunately triggered by Hoover's inept gov., causing the stock marke
o crash due to overspeculation & overproducti

America's Overproduction in agriculture and industry led to Mass consumerism, and consequently a lot of debt, which then caused the Great Depression.

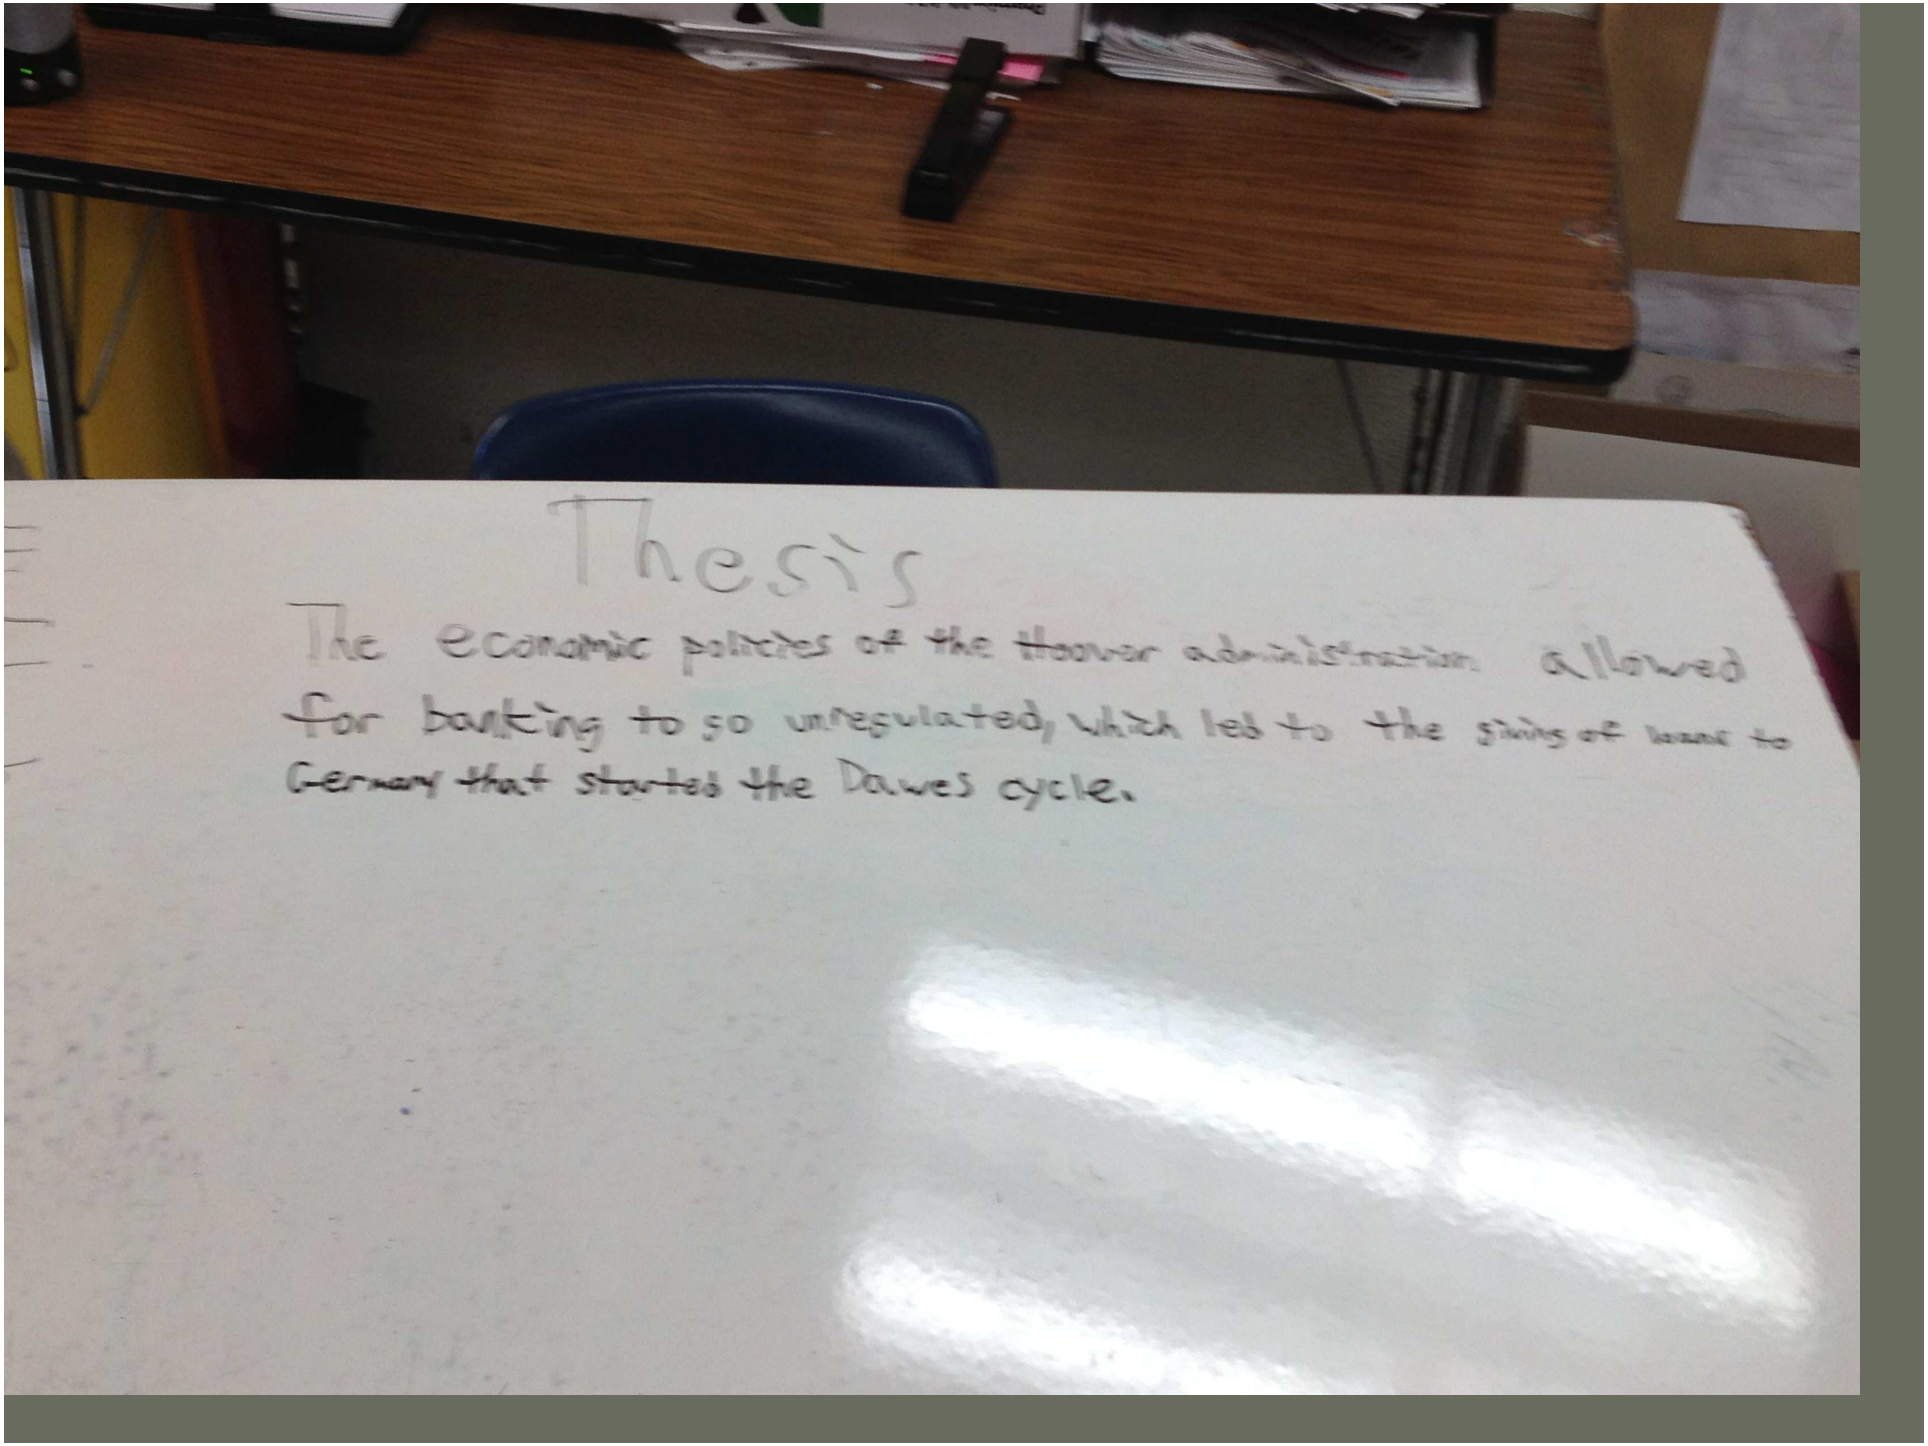
There were many events that led up to the Stock Market crash, such as Overproduction, the American Tarriffpolicy, which created a domino effect that started the Great Depression that ne only affected America, but ot countries as well.

11.1

Overspeculation and crash of the stockmarket with overexpantion of credit combined with the American tariff policy threw the U.S. economy into depression, combined they did so by the shared factor of creating a better image of the American economy while simultaneously desimating the foreign and domestic markets.

America's Overproduction in agriculture and industry led to Mass consumerism involving the overexpansion of credit which ultimately caused the Great Depression.

There were many events that led up to the Stock Market crash, such as Overproduction, the American Tarriffpolicy, which created a Problem of re-paid debts that started the Great Depression that not only affected America, but other Countries as well.

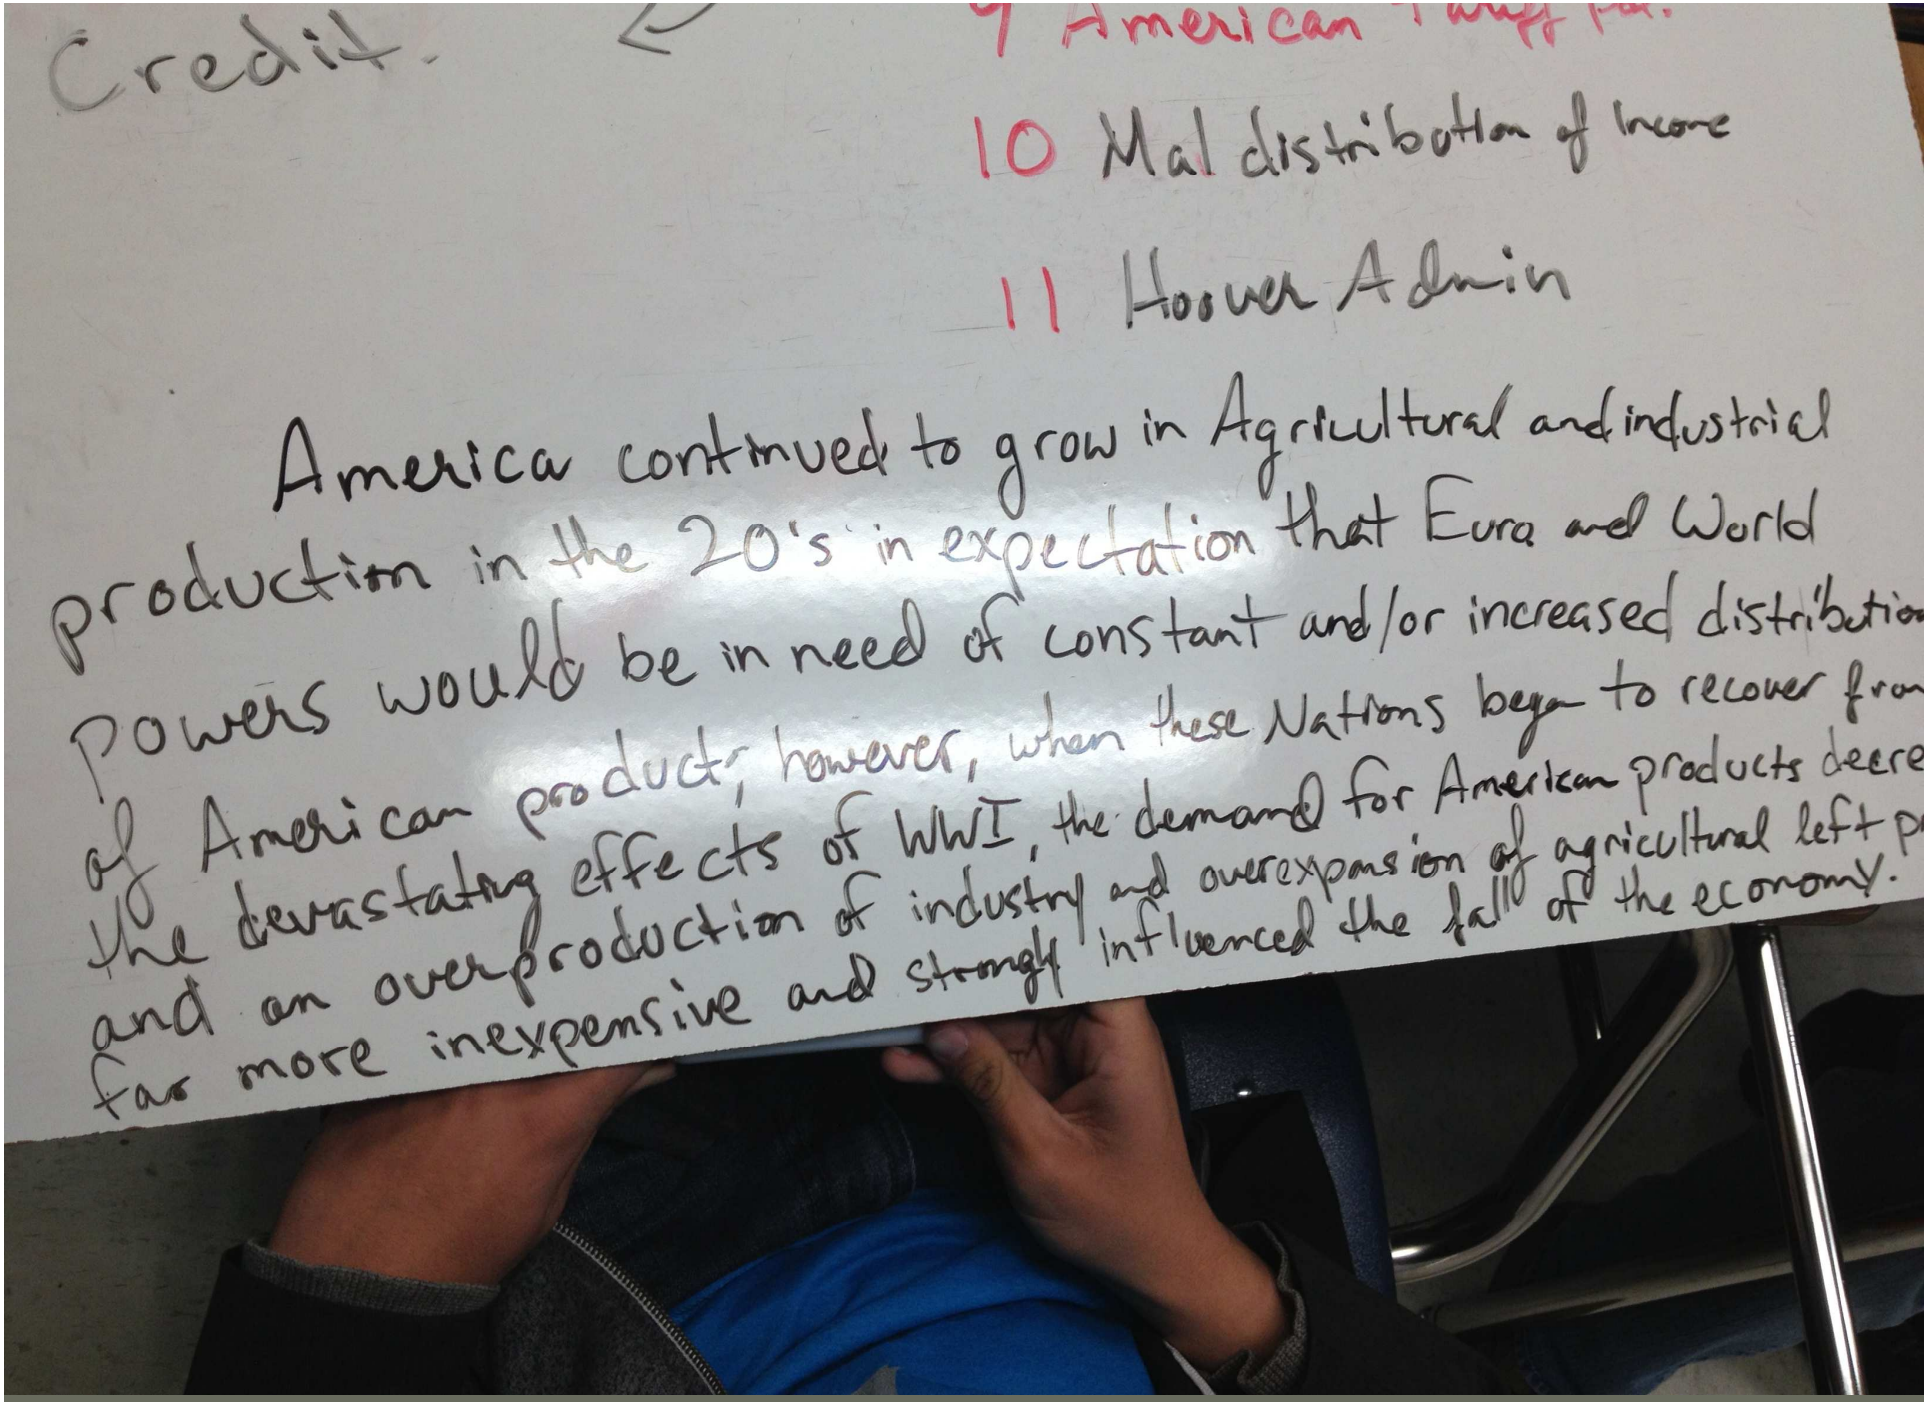


Thesis
The economic policies of the Hoover administration allowed for banking to go unregulated, which led to the giving of loans to Germany that started the Dawes cycle.

8. B
9. A
10. H
11. D

Thesis

The whole stock market crash was created by the high tariffs which shut Europe purchasing of American products down. The market did not address this and kept driving stock up while the industries were continuing to produce goods until finally there was nowhere else to go down.



Credit.
10 Mal distribution of Income
11 Hoover Admin
America continued to grow in Agricultural and industrial production in the 20's in expectation that Eura and World Powers would be in need of constant and/or increased distribution of American product, however, when these Nations bega to recover from the devastating effects of WWI, the demand for American products decre and an overproduction of industry and overexpansion of agricultural left p far more inexpensive and strongly influenced the fall of the economy.

The Great Depression had many factors behind it due to the stock market crash of 1929, the closing of over 9,000 banks, reduction in purchasing across the board, and the Dust Bowl; which resulted in a mass loss of jobs leading to an unemployment rate of over 25%. This created a vicious cycle where in people didn't purchase any products causing stores to lose money, resulting into more job loss.

Brenson

1E
2I
3G

Thesis

The economic policies of the Hoover administration allowed for banking to go unregulated, which led to the giving of loans to Germany that started the Dawes cycle.

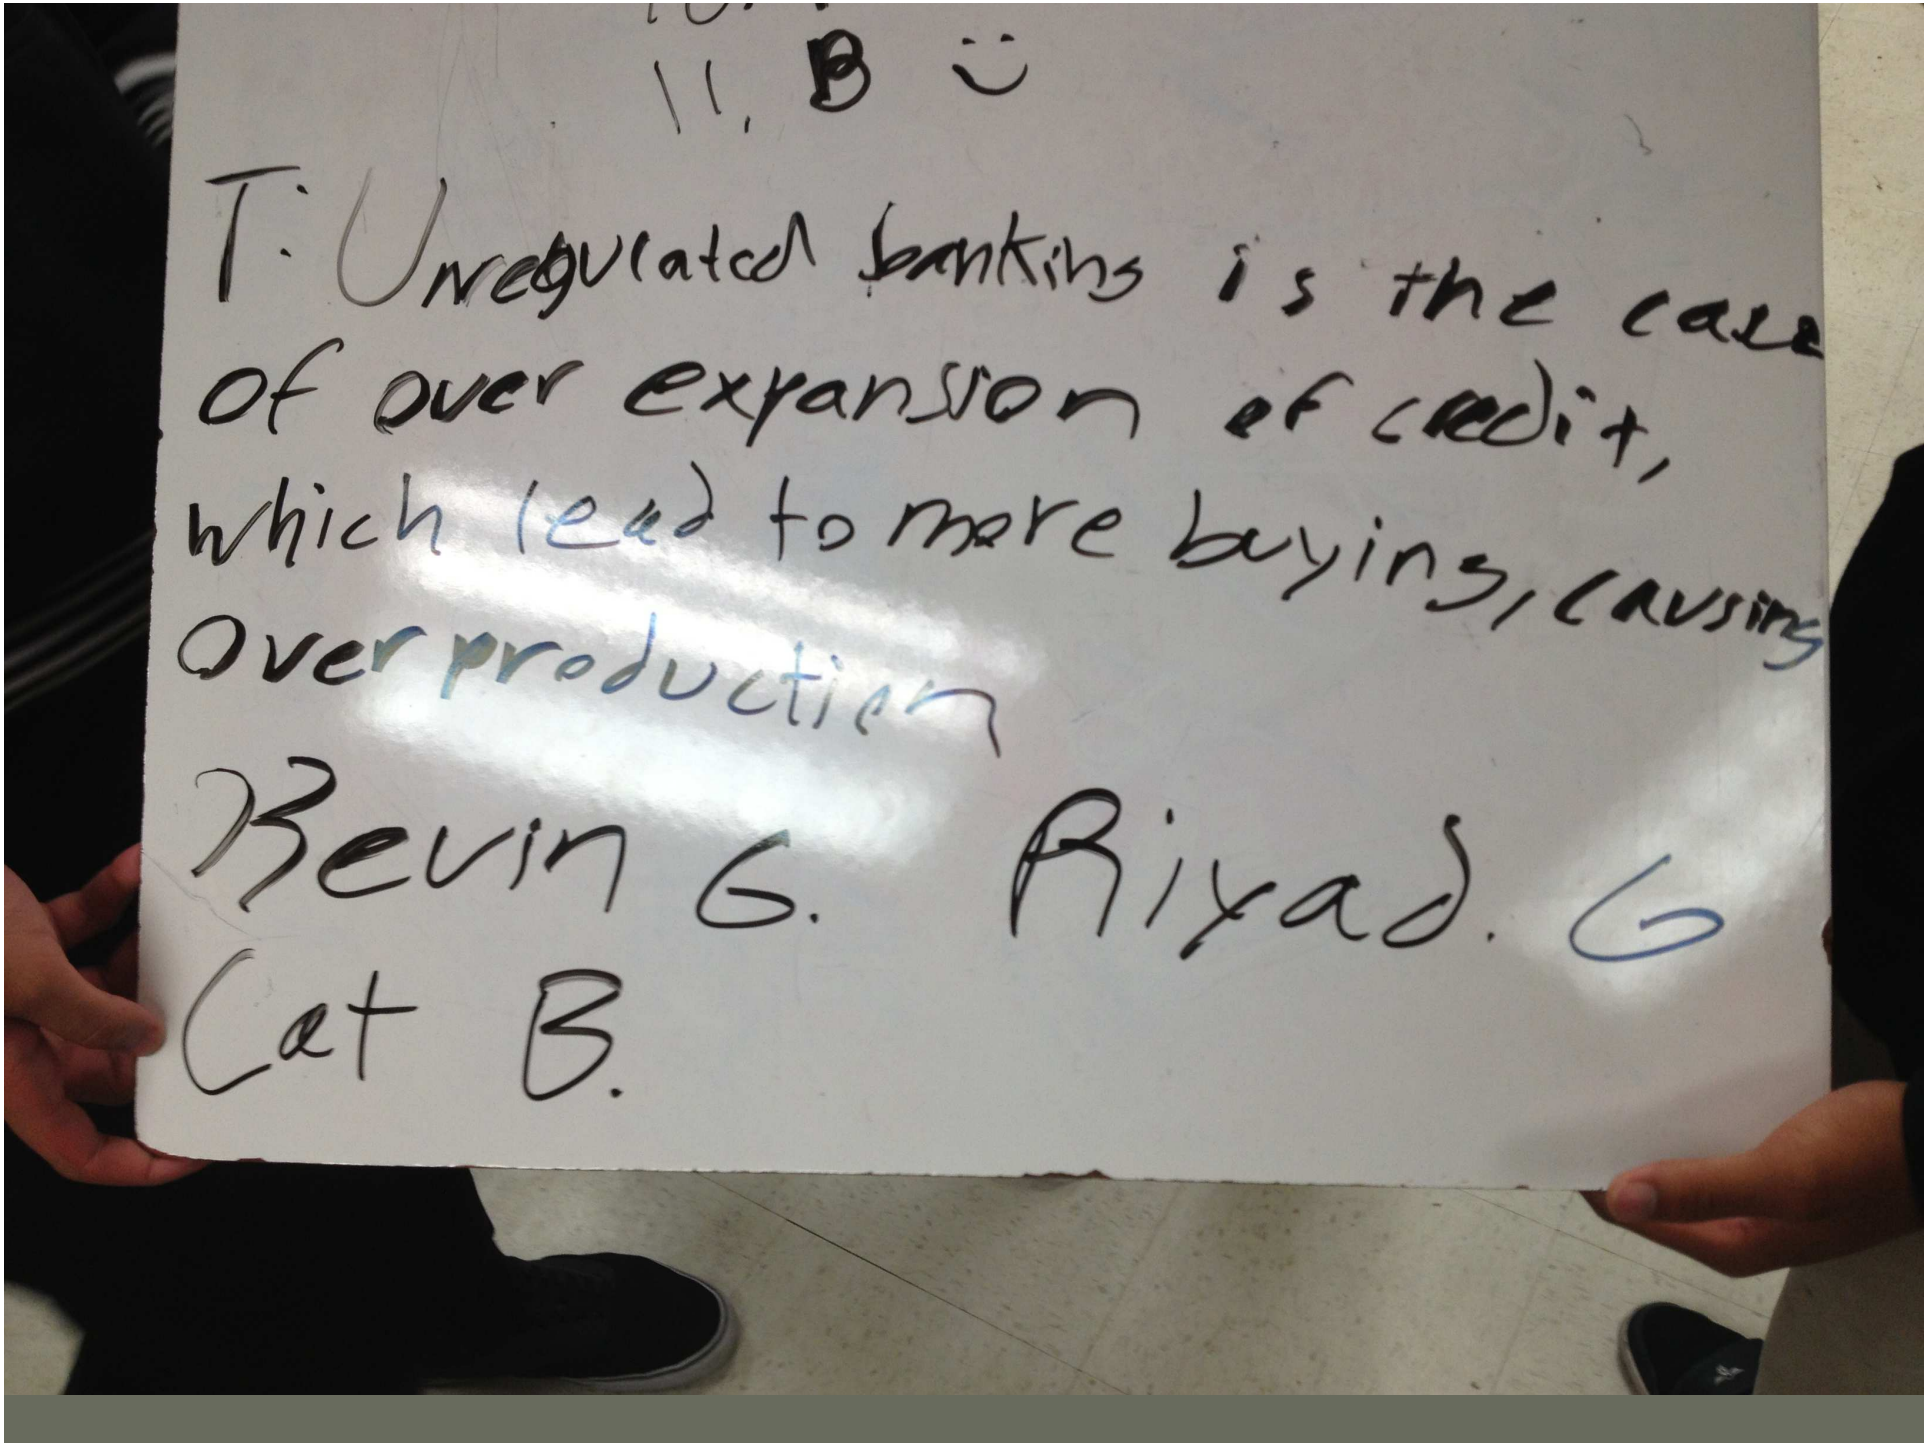
In the roaring 20's, the new prosperity era of republicans, including Hoover's administration caused an unregulated banking process which catalyzed the effects from WWI & the impacts of the Global economy.

4 t

Kool

Causes of the Great Depression

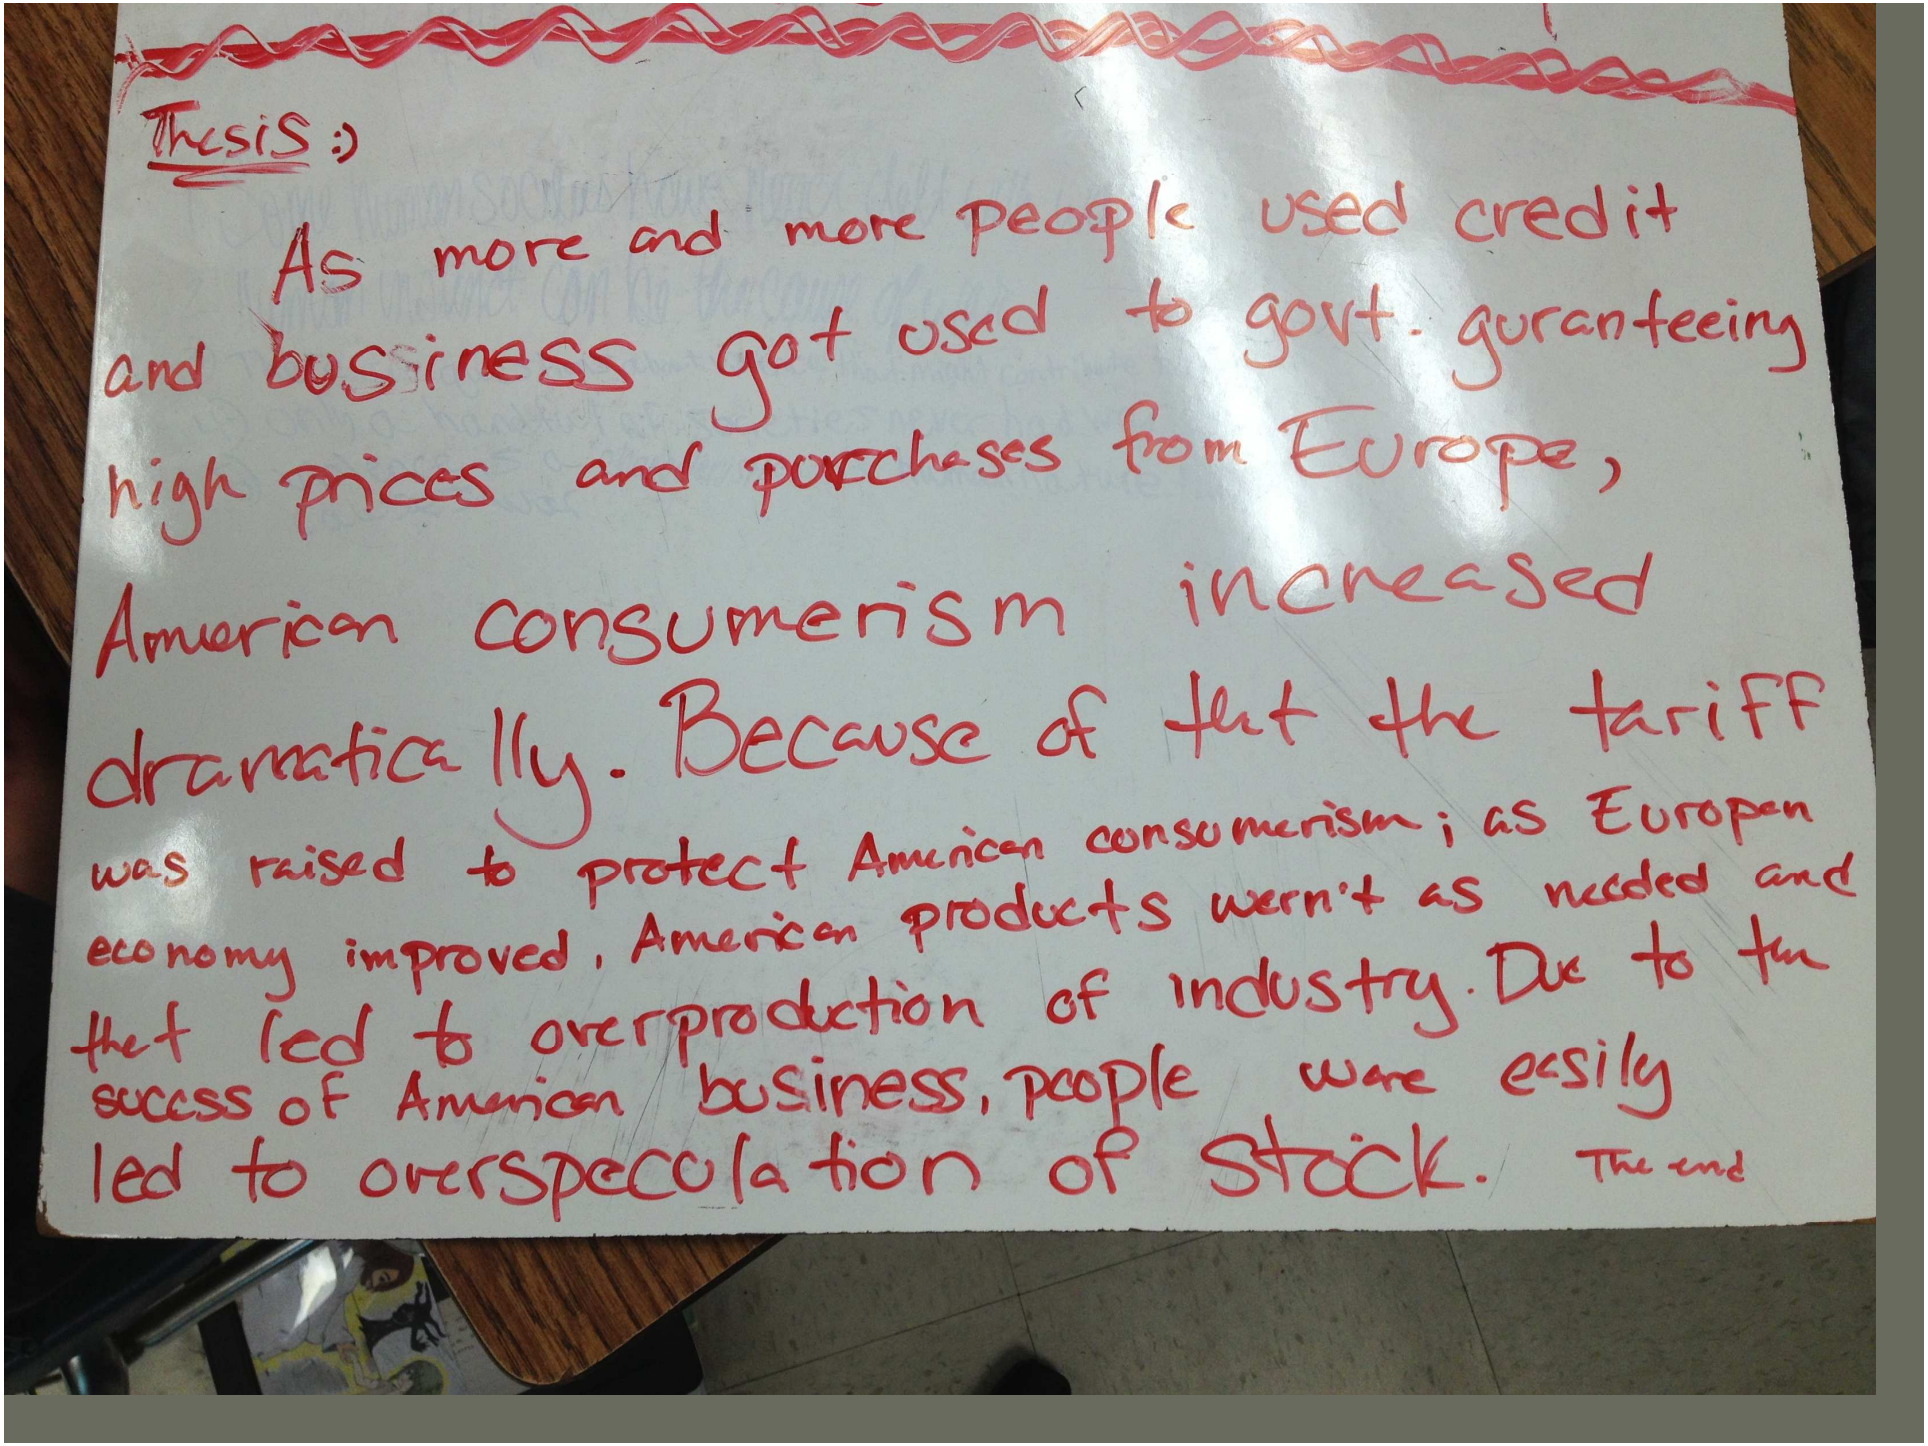
The greatest contribution to the Great Depression was the overspeculation and crash of the stock market which led to overexpansion of credit, impacting not only the U.S. economy but the world economy as well. This created a cycling effect that only worsened the plummeting economy.



11, B
T: Unregulated banking is the case of over expansion of credit, which lead to more buying, causing overproduction
Bevin G. Riyad. G
Cat B.

b-stock market speculation & crash — too much
c-overexpansion of credit —
c-overproduction of industry

The 1920's market crash and depression came as a result of the over the top actions by Americans which were encouraged by overspeculation on stocks which devalued currency and caused debt, the overexpansion of credit which only increased the amount of debt over the average person's head, and the overproduction by industry which dramatically lowered prices and sent farmers under.



Thesis :)

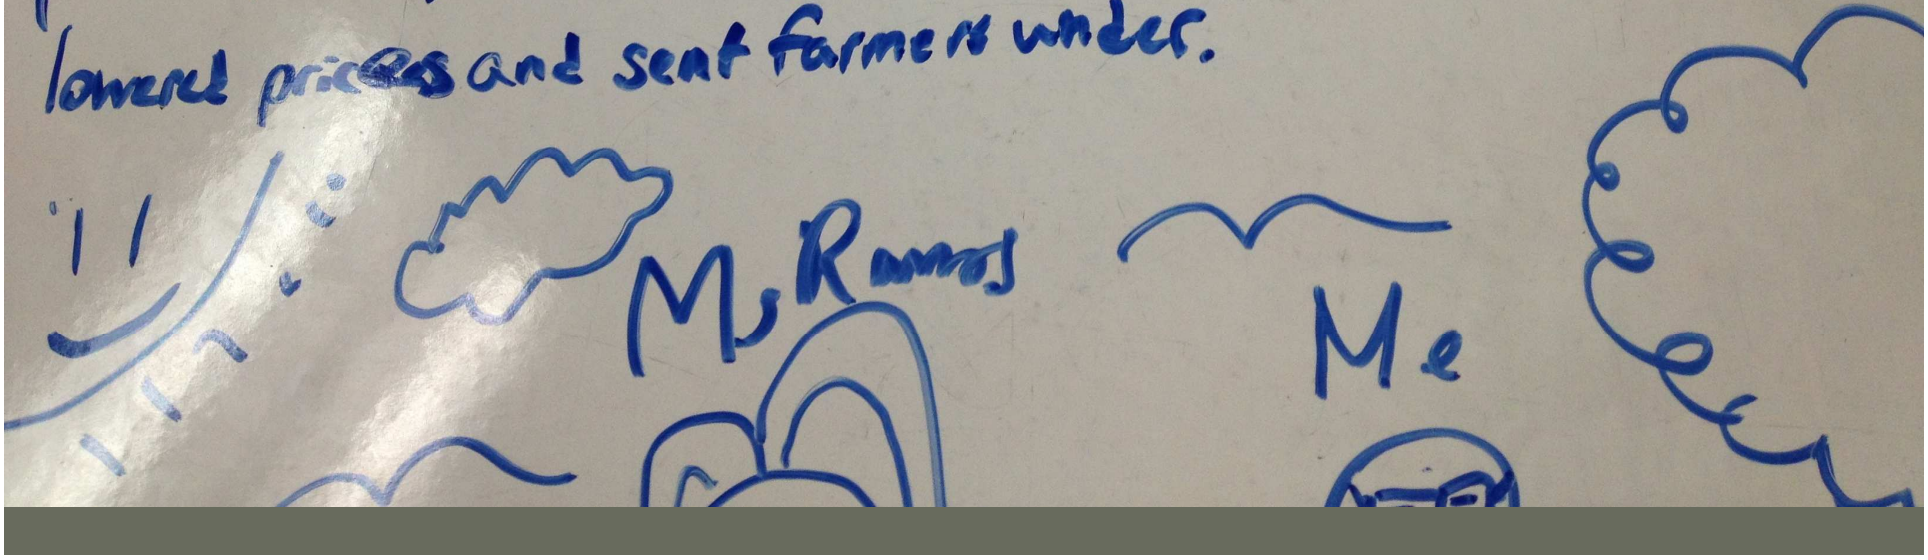
As more and more people used credit and bussiness got used to govt. guranteeing high prices and purchases from Europe, American consumerism increased dramatically. Because of that the tariff was raised to protect American consumerism; as Europen economy improved, American products weren't as needed and that led to overproduction of industry. Due to the success of American business, people were easily led to overspeculation of stock. The end

9.D

The Great Depression was the effect of over production, maldistribution, the poor state of the global economy, and the overexpansion of credit. The combination of these crippling factors effectively hobbled America, sending the majority of the population into a downward spiral of poverty and job loss.

b-stock market speculation & crash — too much
c-overexpansion of credit —
c-overproduction of industry

The 1920's market crash and depression came as a result of the over the top actions by Americans which were encouraged by ~~[illegible]~~ overspeculation on stocks which devalued currency and caused debt, the overexpansion of credit which only increased the amount of debt over the average person's head, and the overproduction by industry which dramatically lowered prices and sent farmers under.



1 F	4 F	7 I	10 B
2 J	5 G	8 H	11 D
3 C	6 E	9 A

b-Stock market speculation & crash — too much
c-overexpansion of credit →
c-overproduction of industry

The 1920's market crash and depression came as a result of the over the top actions by Americans which were encouraged by overspeculation on stocks which devalued currency and caused debt, the overexpansion of credit which only increased the amount of debt over the average person's head, and the overproduction by industry which dramatically

3. D
4. B
5. E
6. J

7. C
10. K
11. A

1920s

The great depression was the final product of a long chain of deteriorating events; Hoover, in an attempt to please big business, instituted ridiculously high tariffs, cutting America off from the world economy. Because of this, they had nowhere to distribute excess agric goods after automations caused overproduction and the merging of farm leading to mass inflation... the beginning of the great depressio

A-6
B-10
C-1
D-9
E-2

F-8
G-7
H-4
I-11
J-5

K-3

1-most 11-least

H,K

• C,F,G-"taxes"

J,K

• A,H,E-econ. taxes advantage of B,J,C,D

Thesis:

The main causes of the Great Depression was the overproduction of industry. American tariff policy and the impact of European & world economy due to their overall effect on trade and pricing. Overproduction was a result of other countrie not purchasing American goods and the ~~reso~~ reason why othe countries did not purchase our products was because America had installed new tariffs regarding trade-increasing prices.

-Lexi & Jackie

Banks were unregulated due to over speculation; which led to over production of agricultural industry, eventually leading to the Great

esis: The three main causes of the Great Depression were the stock market speculation/crash due to the buying of stocks which weren't affordable and loss of abundance of money overnight; secondly the overexpansion of agricultural production because due to high tariffs, other countries were not buying American goods since they were now expensive & America was now not recieving profit; And Lastly, the Maldistribution of income & purchasing power, therefore many people were out of work, and the Dust Bowl increased farmland issues, causing migration and poverty.

7. F

8. A

The fou main reasons for the causes of the Great De ression were overexpansion of credit, stock mark speculation and crash, monopolistic pricing, and overpr uction of industry. They were all effective in the E nomy in a bad way because they all started wi n our country and they were all our mistakes.

As the economy grew, production was increased. Because of this, there was overproduction in nearly all industries. People wanted to buy more and used credit to pay for their purchases. Due to all this credit use, there was a huge amount of overspeculation and the stock market crashed.